

Selection scheme for GEA Tuchenhagen valve types

Selection scheme for valve types

All basic valve elements can be easily combined by using the modular system, thus providing sufficient flexibility to any piping system to be designed. Select by means of this flow chart the most suitable valve type for your special need and application.

